

Careers Education and Guidance Policy SCA10

Equality Impact Assessment: Askham Bryan College recognises the importance of the Equality Act 2010 and its duties under the Act. This document has been assessed to ensure that it does not adversely affect staff, students or stakeholders on the grounds of any protected characteristics.

1. SCOPE & PURPOSE

Askham Bryan College is committed to providing high quality careers education, information, advice and guidance (CEIAG) for all its learners thereby equipping them to obtain employment training and education appropriate to their needs and to fulfil their potential. This policy applies as appropriate to full and part time learners at Askham Bryan College on Further Education programmes. This policy sets out the principles of independent and impartial Guidance provision at the College. Impartial Guidance is available and provided to students and prospective students.

This policy is written in accordance with the DfE guidance:
'Careers Guidance – Guidance for further education colleges and sixth form colleges' (February 2018); and
'Careers Strategy – making the most of everyone's skills and talents' (December 2017)

2. POLICY STATEMENT

The College aims to:

- Empower young people to plan and manage their own futures;
- Respond to the needs of each learner;
- Provide comprehensive information and advice;
- Raise aspirations;
- Actively promote equality of opportunity and challenge stereotypes;
- Help young people to progress and track their progression and destination;
- Develop and support the continuous improvement of the quality of the entire student experience; and right for them and to be able to manage their life choices and sustain employability throughout their lives. CEIAG is designed to meet the needs of the learners at this college and those who are considering enrolling here.

It is differentiated and personalised to ensure progression, through activities that are appropriate to the learners' stages of career, learning, planning and development. Learners are entitled to CEIAG which meets professional standards of practice and which is person-centred, impartial and confidential.

We will provide professional career guidance and welfare advice, to support the students' learning journey and beyond.

4. PRINCIPLES

The key principles upon which this policy is based are that CEIAG:

- is personalised, provides opportunities to identify and respond to the needs of the individual, and builds on previous learning and experience;
- is inclusive, recognises and promotes equality and diversity, challenges stereotypes and is sensitive to faith, culture and background;
- is transparent, impartial and provides opportunities for confidentiality;
- offers guidance for any student at risk of dropping out, to assist with retention, and referring to alternative provision where appropriate;
- is enhanced by strong networks and collaborative approaches involving Student Services, curriculum teams and external partners;
- contributes to increasing participation, retention and achievement by raising aspirations, helping students to make informed choices and to develop career management skills; and
- provides comprehensive information and advice.

5. VALUES AND BENEFITS TO STUDENTS

- Guiding potential students through course options so they choose the right course for them, which best meets their individual needs and interests;
- A Careers Education Programme contributing to the Post 16 Study Programme; and
- Helping students to progress into positive destinations after college by raising students' awareness of opportunities, utilising Labour Market Intelligence, supporting students with employability skills and with applications to Higher Education.

A potential learner may benefit from careers guidance, for example, if they:

- are uncertain of course choice;
- do not meet the entry requirements for their chosen course;
- have a poor rationale for their course choice; have previously attempted to study the course;

6. THE MODEL: ‘GATSBY BENCHMARKS’ OF GOOD CAREERS GUIDANCE

This Policy is based on the ‘Gatsby Benchmarks’ of Good Careers Guidance

1. A stable careers programme	Every college should have an embedded programme of career education and guidance that is known and understood by learners, parents, teachers, employers and other agencies.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Every college should have a stable, structured careers programme that has the explicit backing of the senior management team, and has an identified and appropriately trained person responsible for it. • The careers programme should be published on the college’s website in a way that enables learners, parents, college staff and employers to access and understand it. • The programme should be regularly evaluated with feedback from learners, parents, college staff and employers as part of the evaluation process.
2. Learning from career and labour market information	Every learner, and their parents (where appropriate), should have access to good quality information about future study options and labour market opportunities. They will need the support of an informed adviser to make best use of available information.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • During their study programme all learners should access and use information about career paths and the labour market to inform their own decisions on study options. • Parents should be encouraged to access and use information about labour markets and future study options to inform their support to the learners in their care.
3. Addressing the needs of each student	Learners have different career guidance needs at different stages. Opportunities for advice and support need to be tailored to the needs of each learner. A college’s careers programme should embed equality and diversity considerations throughout.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A college’s careers programme should actively seek to challenge stereotypical thinking and raise aspirations. • Colleges should keep systematic records of the individual advice given to each learner, and subsequent agreed decisions. • The records of advice given should be integrated with those given at the previous stage of the learner’s education (including their secondary school) where these are made available. Records should begin to be kept from the first point of contact or from the point of transition. • All learners should have access to these records to support their career development. Colleges should collect and maintain accurate data for each learner on their education, training or employment destinations.
4. Linking curriculum learning to careers	All subject staff should link curriculum learning with careers, even on courses that are not specifically occupation-led. For example, STEM subject staff should highlight the relevance of STEM subjects for a wide range of future career paths. Study programmes should also reflect the importance of maths and English as a key expectation from employers.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Throughout their programme of study (and by the end of their course) every learner should have had the opportunity to experience how their subjects help people gain entry to (and be more effective workers within) a wide range of occupations.

5.Encounters with employers and employees	Every learner should have multiple opportunities to learn from employers about work, employment and the skills that are valued in the workplace. This can be through a range of enrichment activities including visiting speakers, mentoring and enterprise schemes, and should include learners' own part time employment where it exists.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Every year, alongside their study programme, learners should participate in at least two meaningful encounters* with an employer. At least one encounter should be delivered through their curriculum area. • Colleges should record and take account of learners' own part-time employment and the influence this has had on their development. *A 'meaningful encounter' is one in which the learner has an opportunity to learn about what work is like or what it takes to be successful in the workplace.
6.Experiences of workplaces	Every learner should have first-hand experiences of the workplace through work visits, work shadowing and/or work experience to help their exploration of career opportunities, and expand their networks.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • By the end of their study programme, every learner should have had at least one experience of a workplace, additional to any part-time jobs they may have.
7.Encounters with further and higher education	All learners should understand the full range of learning opportunities that are available to them. This includes both academic and vocational routes and learning in schools, colleges, universities and in the workplace.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • By the end of their programme of study, every learner should have had a meaningful encounter* with a range of providers of learning and training that may form the next stage of their career. This should include, as appropriate, further education colleges, higher education and apprenticeship and training providers. This should include the opportunity to meet both staff and learners. *A 'meaningful encounter' is one in which the learner has an opportunity to explore what it is like to learn in that environment.
8.Personal guidance	Every learner should have opportunities for guidance interviews with a career adviser, who could be internal (a member of college staff) or external, provided they are trained to an appropriate level*. These should be available for all learners whenever significant study or career choices are being made. They should be expected for all learners but should be timed to meet individual needs. * The college should ensure that access to a level 6 adviser is available when needed.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Every learner should have at least one such interview by the end of their study programme
